SECTION A – 2 MARKS

Q1. (a)

Personality is the set of behaviours, thoughts, emotions and habits that make a person unique. It reflects how a person reacts, communicates, thinks and presents themselves in different situations, and it is shaped by heredity, environment and situation.

Q1. (b)

SWOT analysis is a personal analysis tool that studies one's Strengths, Weaknesses, Opportunities and Threats. It helps a person understand themselves better and plan personal and career development.

Q1. (c)

1. Positive attitude: Optimistic, hopeful and open-minded.
2. Negative attitude: Pessimistic, doubtful and resistant to change.

Q1. (d)

Assertive communication is expressing your thoughts, feelings and needs confidently and respectfully, without being aggressive or passive. It means standing up for yourself in a calm and honest way, using polite but firm language.

Q1. (e)

1. Clear vision and strong communication: The leader knows the goal and explains it clearly to the team.
2. Integrity and honesty: The leader is fair and truthful, so people trust and follow them.

SECTION B – 5 MARKS

Q2.

1. Meaning: Personality is the set of behaviours, thoughts, emotions and habits that make a person unique; it is shaped by heredity, environment and situation.
2. Heredity: Traits inherited from parents, such as body structure, intelligence and temperament. Example: a child may have the calm temperament of a parent.
3. Family environment: Upbringing, values and habits learnt at home shape how a person thinks and behaves.
4. Social and cultural environment: School, peer groups, media and culture influence a person's attitudes, language and behaviour. Example: a student in an active college club grows more confident.
5. Situation: Behaviour may change with the situation. Example: someone may be quiet at home but confident in a classroom or office.

Q3.

Self-awareness is the ability to understand your own personality, emotions, behaviour, strengths and weaknesses.

1. Realistic goals and better decisions: Knowing your strengths and weaknesses helps you set achievable goals and improves decision-making and emotional control.
2. Stronger relationships: It builds better relationships and helps you understand how others perceive you.
3. Self-reflection and a journal: Think about your own actions and keep a personal diary or journal.
4. Feedback from others: Ask teachers, friends and colleagues for honest feedback and act on it.
5. Personality assessment tools: Use tools such as MBTI or the Johari Window. Example: if you get nervous during public speaking, practise in small groups to build confidence.

Q4.

Perceptual errors are mistakes we make while judging people or situations, because we interpret information wrongly.

1. Stereotyping: Judging someone based on their group identity. Example: thinking all teenagers are lazy.
2. Halo effect: Forming a whole opinion from one good quality. Example: thinking someone is intelligent just because they speak well.
3. Horn effect: Judging someone negatively because of one bad quality. Example: thinking a late-comer is careless in all work.
4. Other errors: First impression error (quick judgement without the full picture) and projection (assuming others think and feel as you do).
5. Avoiding errors: Be aware of your own biases, avoid jumping to conclusions, collect more information before judging and keep an open mind.

Q5.

Basis	Assertive	Passive	Aggressive
Meaning	Honest and respectful communication	Avoids expressing needs or opinions	Forceful, disrespectful communication
Respect	Respects self and others	Respects others, not self	Respects self, not others
Language and tone	Polite but firm, calm voice	Hesitant, soft, apologetic	Loud, blaming, threatening
Body language	Eye contact and good posture	Avoids eye contact	Stares, points fingers
Example	Calmly expressing disagreement	Not speaking up even when treated unfairly	Yelling or threatening to get one's way

Q6.

Team building is the process of creating a group of individuals who work together effectively to achieve common goals.

1. Importance: It encourages cooperation and trust, improves communication, increases productivity and creativity, reduces conflicts and builds a sense of belonging.
2. Formal teams: Created by an organisation with a clear structure and goals. Example: a project team in a company.
3. Informal teams: Formed naturally by people with common interests. Example: friends working together on a college event.
4. Cross-functional teams: Members from different departments. Example: marketing, finance and HR working together.
5. Virtual teams: Teams that work online or remotely. Example: a remote customer support team.

Q7.

Negotiation is the process where two or more people discuss and reach an agreement that benefits all parties. Example: a college fest committee hiring a sound system.

1. Preparation: Know your goals, the facts and the other party's needs. The committee fixes its budget at Rs. 15,000 and checks other vendors' rates.
2. Opening: Start the discussion politely and professionally. The committee meets the vendor and explains the event.
3. Discussion: Share ideas, offers and concerns, and listen actively. The vendor quotes Rs. 20,000 and explains the cost of the equipment.
4. Bargaining: Make offers and find compromises for a win-win result. The committee offers Rs. 16,000 plus the vendor's name on the fest banner.
5. Closing and implementation: Agree on the final terms and follow through. Both agree on Rs. 16,500 with the banner, put it in writing and keep their word on the day.